The Textile Atelier Project

collaborations between fine artists and the fashion | design industry

the project

- produces unique graphics on silk and silk blends based on the artists imagery and (graphic) design elements
- a story line will accompany each collaboration highlighting the artist and the unique textile package. This will set the line apart in upscale markets and provide a compelling marketing tool.

the big picture

- a self-sustained work / study / textile atelier constructed of shipping containers and re-use materials establishing a green, eco-friendly environment.
- prototype location: US

our story

- in lieu of outsourcing their own textile project, Nikole and Brenda designed a satellite project that would employ stateside textile resources to produce a collaborative fashion line incorporating Brenda's abstract Zen brush movements and Nikole's graphic design work. Pairing Nikole's knowledge of the textile and fashion industry and her expertise in designing green building environments with Brenda's desire to explore the textile industry as a fine artist – provides the foundation to their entrepreneurial collaboration "sunergos."
